To summarise 2008:

A very exciting and productive year in terms of the ecosystem cruises with a mass of new data that will help to better define the ecosystem boundaries and 'populate' the MEDA → TDA process.

A significantly productive year as far as engaging country ownership into the LME process in terms of the COGs and the expected deliverables from the countries for TDA and SAP development

Important new activities evolving for coastal assessment related to livelihoods, cost-benefits for the LME approach, and data handling and management
